Repentance

Paraphrased From a homily by Saint John Chrysostom, bishop

The paths to repentance are numerous and varied, and all lead to heaven: They are: the condemnation of your own sins; forgive our fellow servant's sins against us; prayer that is fervent, careful and come from the heart; almsgiving, whose power is great and far-reaching; living a modest, humble life.

The first, condemnation of your own sins, is supported by scripture: Bethe first to admit your sins and you will be justified. For this reason, too, the prophet wrote: I said I will accuse myself of my sins to the Lord, and you forgave the wickedness of my heart. If you condemn your own sins that will be enough reason for the Lord to forgive you, for a person who condemns his own sins is slower to commit them again.

The second reminds us of the Lord's Prayer, forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. We are then to put out of our minds the harm done us by our enemies, in order to master our anger, and to forgive our fellow servant's sins against us. Then our own sins against the Lord will be forgiven us.

With the others, fervent prayer, almsgiving and humility we have five paths of repentance. Do not be idle, then, but walk daily in all these paths; they are easy, and you cannot plead your poverty. For though you live out your life amid great need, you can always set aside your wrath, be humble, pray diligently and condemn your own sins; poverty is no hindrance. Poverty is not an obstacle to our carrying out the Lord's bidding, even when it comes to that path of repentance which involves giving money (almsgiving). The widow proved that when she put her two mites into the box!

Now that we have learned how to heal these wounds of ours, let us apply the cures. Then, when we have regained genuine health, we can approach the holy table with confidence, go gloriously to meet Christ, the king of glory, and attain the eternal blessings through the grace, mercy and kindness of Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Question: have you checked out the section in the Catechism on "The Sacrament of Penance and Reconciliation"? It is in the chapter on "The Sacraments of Healing." kvs

Stewardship by the Book

In the first reading, Isaiah urges us in the name of the Lord to feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, and clothe the naked. If we do so, he assures us, the Lord will hear and answer our cries for help in the time of need.
