Christ the King

The kingdom of God, in the words of our Lord and Savior, does not come for all to see; nor shall they say: Behold, here it is, or behold, there it is; but the kingdom of God is within us, for the word of God is very nearby. He who prays for the coming of God's kingdom prays rightly to have it within himself, that there it may grow and bear fruit and become perfect. For God reigns in each of His holy ones.

The kingdom of God within us, as we continue to make progress, will reach its highest point when Christ, having subjected all His enemies to himself, will hand over His kingdom to God the Father, that God may be all in all. Therefore, let us pray unceasingly with that disposition of soul which the Word may make divine, saying to our Father who is in heaven: Hallowed be thy name your kingdom come.

As we strive to make progress, let us remember the words of St. Paul, "I complete in my own flesh what is lacking in the sufferings of Christ." For the mysteries of Jesus are not completely perfected and fulfilled. They are complete in the person of Jesus, but not in us who are His members, nor in the Church which is His mystical body. The Son of God wills to give us a share in His mysteries and somehow to extend them to us. He wills to continue them in us and in His universal Church. This is brought about first through the graces He imparts to us and then through the works He wishes to accomplish in us through these mysteries.

He desires us to perfect the mystery of His incarnation and birth by forming himself in us and being reborn in our souls through the blessed sacraments of baptism and the Eucharist. He intends to perfect the mysteries of His passion, death and resurrection, by causing us to suffer, die and rise again with Him and in Him. So it is that the mysteries of Christ will not be completed until the end of time, because He has arranged that the completion of His mysteries in us and in the Church will only be achieved at the end of time.

Each year we celebrate His coming, and again offer ourselves to Him that His works may be perfected and fulfilled. (With special thanks to Origen, priest, and St. John Eudes, priest) kvs
