The Holy Spirit and Presence of the Eucharist

Today as I was reflecting on the Key reality of the presence of Jesus as the Holy Eucharist, I kept in mind the role of the Holy Spirit in the celebration of Mass. I read a clear description of the role of the Holy Spirit by Father Roniero Cantalamessa OFM, Cap, retreat master to the bishops and the Holy Father in Advent and Lent. He said that there are two special moments of presence:

- * At the Consecration: The Spirit gives us Jesus; makes Jesus present.
- * At Communion: Jesus present gives us the Spirit, makes the Spirit present.

In the words of the Third Eucharistic prayer the priest invokes the Holy Spirit in preparation for the words of Consecration: Father, we bring you these gifts. We ask you to make them holy by the power of your Spirit, that they may become the body and blood of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, at whose command we celebrate this eucharist. Then at the words of consecration: “ ... this is my body – 26 this is my blood ... ”, the Holy Spirit makes Jesus present; He gives us Jesus. Following the consecration the priest again prepares for the action of the Holy Spirit in the coming Holy Communion: Grant that we, who are nourished by His body and blood, may be filled with His Holy Spirit, and become one body, one spirit in Christ. Then at communion time the priest says to each communicant: “The Body of Christ!” and you answer: “AMEN!” Then he says “The Blood of Christ!” and you answer “AMEN!” “AMEN” is a powerful and important response. It is our “FIAT” that we say with Mary assee John Paul II in the Church lives by the Eucharist) Mary said her AMEN, her FIAT to the overshadowing of the Holy Spirit and Jesus was conceived in her womb. The Word of God was made flesh and dwelt among us (see John 1:14). At Communion, Jesus gives us the Holy Spirit! — the same Holy Spirit that overshadowed Mary; the same Holy Spirit that gives us Jesus. As we say our AMEN, FIAT with Mary we too surrender our bodies to be temples of the Holy Spirit, allowing Him to transform us into a “Living Eucharist,” an icon 27 of Jesus, the icon of the Father (see Col 1:15). With great meaning and awesome awareness, we too can offer our bodies (our whole person as created) as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God, our spiritual worship (see Romans 12:1). In Sacramental Holy Communion, we eat and drink the Body and Blood of the Lord Jesus, born of Mary by the Holy Spirit — and become what we eat. A great biochemical transformation described by both St. Leo the Great and St. Augustine. What a great calling! — to be a living presence of Jesus! — a living Eucharist (see 2 Cor 13:5; Col 1:27, Gal 2:20).
